

The game system will call score() on the newly placed tile, which will look at all the features it's in. If it is in a cloister feature, the cloisterFeature class will check if the feature is complete, then reward the feature's owner 9 points, and then return the owner's follower.